

This book will help you savour your wine even more than before. We learn about the amazing care taken over its production and the marriage of art, science and luck needed for success. We consider the many variables – the location of the vineyards, the grapes grown, the way they are grown, picked, processed and blended. Then there is bottling and marketing – all vital parts of what is a big industry.

What can you learn by looking at a bottle in a shop? How do you assess it once you have bought it? What do experts look for at a tasting?

● These are all questions that Quicklook at Wine will answer.

The author

Richard Avery is a member of the fifth generation of a family involved in the wine business since 1793. After qualifying at the University of Bordeaux in 1995, Richard helped to set up a successful new wine business. He is a liveryman of the Worshipful Company of Vintners and often writes about wine.

Not content with one career, Richard is also a successful actor, having appeared in major roles for the Royal Shakespeare Company in the West End and in a number of feature films, under the name Alex Avery.

Every Quicklook book explains the basics of a big subject in a read of not more than 90 minutes – even for readers with no prior knowledge.

The books are of general interest but should be particularly useful to those entering the world of work.
